Dear Families,

Welcome back to the start of the this half-term. We hope you had an enjoyable February break. We have an exciting half-term ahead of us full of learning.

In Maths, the children have already begun to focus on Area, Perimeter and Graphs. They are working on finding the area, perimeter, and missing lengths of shapes. In addition, the children are examining the data from different types of graphs. In English, the children are reading the book, 'The Empire Windrush' by Jillian Powell, about The Empire Windrush that sailed from Jamaica to Britain in 1948, with passengers on board hoping for a better life ahead in England. In Writing, the children create a Newspaper Report on a natural disaster and write an autobiography. The children will continue to develop their spelling, grammar and punctuation skills, including relative clauses, past progressive tense, hyphens and parenthesis.

Within the wider curriculum, the children will learn about South America in Geography, sewing in Design and Technology and Light in Science.
